PRESIDENT'S COMMENT

If the restrictions necessitated by the pandemic have taught us anything, it is surely the value of personal contact. It is, therefore, an especial pleasure to be able to look forward to the Association's first face to face AGM since April 2019. The pleasure of gathering together with both new and long-standing members is, however, tinged with the sad news of the recent sudden and untimely death of Mary Cooke, one of our Shortlands Ward councillors. The SRA, as a non-party political organisation, aims to work with all councillors in the common interest of local residents and Mary's support and interest in much of the Association's activities was valued greatly and she will be missed by very many who she helped over her eight years of service on the Council.

After more years than he is prepared to remember our Chairman, Mark Dempsey, is standing down from the Chair and from the Committee. His commitment to the SRA, its members and to the wider community will be hard to follow. The widening of the SRA's activities, with its ongoing programme of modernisation, owes much to his initiative and quiet leadership style and we owe him a considerable debt of gratitude. His final Chairman's Report shows just how much has been achieved by him and the Committee despite the challenging circumstances of 2021 while the result of the SRA Members' Survey and the discussion it should prompt about the Association's future priorities will help sustain the momentum Mark helped generate.

Local elections to Bromley Council are scheduled for 5th May and, as noted in Mark's report, the SRA will again host a Hustings for candidates seeking election, thereby providing all voters in the Ward with an opportunity to hear their views and to question them. This Hustings promises to be of particular interest. Firstly, this is the first election following the enlargement of the Shortlands Ward to include the Village. Secondly, Shortlands' representation on Bromley Council increases from two to three councillors so electors will have three votes to cast. Thirdly, Bromley Council spends over £220m on services for its residents yet for many years it has continued to be relatively poorly funded by central government compared to other London boroughs. In 2021/22 Bromley's Council Tax Requirement was £175m. How Bromley spends its funds, what priorities are set and how it ensures value for money for residents in Shortlands should be of critical concern to us all so please make the effort to attend this initiative in support of local democracy and accountability.

Finally, I take this opportunity to join with Mark and congratulate and thank most sincerely all those who have helped the SRA over the last year, whether on its Executive Committee, as Liaison Officers or simply by giving one-off assistance. Thanks also to you, our members, for your continued interest and support and perhaps some of you may feel able to respond positively to the Chairman's request for further volunteers to assist with the SRA's future activities. We look forward to seeing you on 5th April.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT

This will be our first face to face AGM for three years, as the meeting planned for 2020 had to be cancelled during the lockdown and the 2021 event held as a Zoom session. Unsurprisingly, fewer people attended that meeting than would normally take part in our AGMs, which are traditionally well-attended, so let's hope that this year we get back to pre-COVID levels of attendance. In the meantime, the SRA committee has continued to be actively involved in a number of issues that affect Shortlands in some significant ways.

First, we argued successfully – along with the Ravensbourne Valley Residents and Bromley Civic Society – for the designation of Shortlands “village” as a conservation area. This will help preserve the character of the area and be helpful in arguing against inappropriate planning applications, including the design of the proposed lifts at Shortlands station which we are still discussing with Network Rail, supported by technical advice from local engineering experts. Unfortunately it has not, so far, made any difference in respect of the boarded up building at 87 Beckenham Lane which continues, after around five years, to be a blight on the area. We take a very close interest in planning matters, as members will know, including those affecting the town centre, and Danny Miller will provide a short update at the AGM.

Secondly, we made a series of comments and suggestions on plans to improve the local environment by promoting cycle lanes and improving pedestrian access during lockdown, some of which came about during the consultations on the aborted “Shortlands Friendly Village” scheme. The claimed benefits of these schemes have, in my view, been arguable and unproven with no appreciable uptake in the use of cycle lanes – and in some cases poor design leading to increased congestion and emissions. On the subject of local air quality we did manage to run one of our open meetings on this topic with some very informative contributions from local residents who had raised their concerns with us.

Thirdly, we are about to see the fruits of the detailed submission that we put together to the Local Government Boundary Commission, so that in the local elections in May the Shortlands ward will elect three councillors, rather than two, as it expands to recognise that Shortlands “village” is genuinely part of Shortlands ward. We are again organising a Hustings session where we will invite all candidates contesting the election to set out their priorities for the area and answer questions from local voters. We were the first residents' association to organise such an event during the last local elections. This is scheduled to take place on the evening of 27 April at Shortlands Golf Club and is open to all.

Finally, we were represented at each of the three Shortlands market events. These proved a useful way of keeping in touch and attracting new members and were well supported by the local community. Let's hope they become a permanent feature of local life.

Sadly, this will be my last AGM – I have, as they say, done my bit after more than ten years as chairman. I genuinely believe that the SRA is a force for good in the area. We have sound finances, good communications with members (newsletters, the web site, the recent survey), accurate membership records and convincingly argued comments on planning and development issues. This is achieved by a small committee who give up their time to make a difference. To maintain this effort – and hopefully do more – we need people to join the committee on a permanent or project basis to bring their expertise and time to the cause.

So I am extremely grateful to all who have supported our work on the committee. I would be happy to explain to anyone interested in discussing the role why I have enjoyed it so much.

Mark Dempsey
